Our Gold and Silver Products.

J. ROSS BROWNE'S OFFICIAL REPORT ON THE MINERAL RESOURCES OF THE STATES AND TERRITORIES WEST OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

We take the following from J. Ross Browne's official report to the Secretary of the Treasury, a copy of which has been sent to Congress:

From the best information available, the following is a near approximation to our total gold and silver product for the year ending January 7, 1867:

California	$25,000,000
Nevada	20,000,000
Montana	12,000,000
Idaho	6,000,500
Washington	1,000,000
Oregon	2,000,000
Colorado	2,500,000
New Mexico	500,000
Arizona	500,000
Add for bullion derived from unknown sources within the States and Territories, unaccounted for by assessors and express companies, &c.	5,000,000
Total product of the United States	$75,000,000

The bullion product of Washington is estimated by the Surveyor General at $1,500,000. That of Oregon is estimated as high as $2,500,000. Intelligent residents of Idaho and Montana represent that the figures given in the above estimate, so far as these Territories are concerned, are entirely too low, and might be doubled without exceeding the truth. The product of Idaho alone, for this year, is said to be $15,000,000 to $18,000,000. That of Montana is estimated by the Surveyor General at $20,000,000. Similar exceptions are taken to the estimates of Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. As I have no grounds for accepting these statements, beyond the assertion that most of the bullion is carried away in the pockets of the miners, I am inclined to rely upon the returns of the Assessors, express companies and official tables of export. Admitting that a fraction over seven per cent. may have escaped notice, although reasonable allowance is made for this in the estimate of $70,000,000, and that a considerable sum may be derived from sources enumerated, I feel confident the additional allowance of $5,000,000 is sufficient to cover the entire bullion product of the United States for the year 1867; thus making the aggregate product from all sources $75,000,000, as stated in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury.

I have endeavored to obtain returns of the annual product of each State and Territory since 1848, but for the reasons already stated, and in the absence of any reliable statistics, it has been impossible to make the necessary divisions with anything more than approximate accuracy. As nearly as I can judge, from the imperfect returns available, the following in round numbers is not far from the total product:

California	$900,000,000
Nevada	80,000,000
Montana	65,000,000
Idaho	45,000,000
Washington	10,000,000
Oregon	20,000,000
Colorado	25,000,000
New Mexico and Arizona	5,000,000
In jewelry, plate, spoons, &c., and retained for circulation on the Pacific coast	45,000,000
Add for amount buried or concealed, and amounts from unenumerated sources and of which no account may have been taken	50,000,000
Total	$1,255,000,000

This statement requires explanation. Up to 1865 a considerable portion of the gold taken from California was not manifested. In 1849 the actual yield was probably $1,000,000; in 1850, $35,000,000; in 1851, $46,000,000; in 1852, $50,000,000; in 1853, $60,000,000, and 1854, $53,000,000. The amount accounted for by manifest was not so great after the last date. In 1861, Nevada and Idaho commenced adding their treasures to the shipments, so that after that date a deduction for the amounts produced from these sources would be necessary, if the manifest alone were taken as a criterion in order to arrive at the product of California. An addition should be made for the amount retained for currency, estimated by some as high as $15,000,000, but probably not exceeding $35,000,000 or $40,000,000; and for plate jewelry, &c., of California gold, $3,000,000, and Nevada silver, $3,000,000. Incorporated in these shipments are the amounts received from Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona, Washington and British Columbia; but these cannot be deducted from the manifest of exports, according to the express returns, since the proportions are not accurately known of the amounts retained and shipped, derived from separate sources.

The general condition of the mining interests on the Pacific slope is encouraging. There have been fewer individual losses than during past years; and the yield of the mines has been comparatively steady and reliable. Fluctuations in mining stock have not been so great as usual; but those wild and injurious speculations which have impaired confidence in this great interest are gradually becoming narrowed down to individual operations, whose influence in the community is limited. Legitimate mining has been as prosperous as other pursuits; though it cannot be denied that there are uncertainties attached to this peculiar business, which render it hazardous, and requiring more than ordinary profits to make it remunerative, under the most favorable circumstances.

No uneasiness need be felt as to a decrease in the source of supply. After many years of travel over the mining regions I feel justified in asserting that our mineral resources are practically without limit. Explorations made by competent parties during the last year in many parts of the mineral region hitherto unknown demonstrate the fact that the area of the mineral deposit is much larger than was ever before supposed. It is safe to assume that, of the claims already recorded in the settled parts of the country, and known to be valuable, not more than one in a hundred is being worked; and of those worked, perhaps not more than one in fifty pays anything over expenses, owing to mismanagement, inefficient systems of reducing the ores, want of capital, want of transportation, and other causes susceptible of remedy. In many districts of Nevada silver ores of less value than $100 a ton cannot be worked by mill process so as to pay expenses, and there are districts in Idaho and Montana where gold bearing ores will not justify working unless they yield from $40 to $50 per ton. With such wealth of treasure lying dormant, it cannot be doubted that by the increased facilities of transportation and access to the mines soon to be furnished by the Pacific Railroad and its proposed branches, and the experience in the treatment of ores, and the scientific knowledge to be acquired in a national school of mines, adapted to the necessities of the mining population, the yield must eventually increase.

SOUTHERN DELUSIONS.—The following from the Brandon Republican, a Mississippi paper, is a good specimen of the delusions into which the Southern Democrats have been led by the loose talk of their Northern allies. Such fools as Beriah Brown who have written articles affirming that war would be the result of impeachment, have deluded their rebel friends into talking in this style:

The effect of impeachment would be an instantaneous uprising of the people, and the bloodiest war ever recorded in history. Five hundred thousand Democrats would surround the capitol within forty eight hours, and the Radical members of Congress, together with Stanton, Grant and Chase, would be swung up to the shade trees, and the Government in the hands of the constitutional authorities in less than a week. The Democracy of the whole North is terribly aroused, and almost every Democratic club has been turned into a military organization. Every Irishman hates Congress, every Jew hates Grant, and every mechanic and laboring man hates the tyrants who have taxed them to enrich the bondholders and Government Commissioners. The soldiers of the South gave their paroles not to take up arms against the Government, and they are not going to violate their oaths, but they all deny that Congress is the Government, and if Congress attempts to overthrow the constitutional Government by deposing the President and abolishing the Supreme Court, hundreds of thousands will shoulder their muskets and march to the front.

There is a gentleman in Bangor so absent-minded that, meeting his son on the street a day or two since, he extended his hand to him and inquired, "How do you do? When is your father coming home?"

LATE EASTERN NEWS.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The New York Times' dispatch says neither House will make Alabama an exception to the condition prescribed by the Reconstruction acts. The State will not be admitted without a ratification of the constitution by the people, and Congress will not prescribe a rule of suffrage for all States by Congressional enactment. Spalding's substitute for the Alabama bill will probably pass.

A delegation, consisting of W. B. Ogden, of Chicago; Judge Rice, of Maine; Governor Marshall, of Minnesota, and one or two gentlemen from the British Provinces, was before the House Committee on the Pacific Railroad to-day, and made an argument of two hours' duration in favor of the construction of the North Pacific Railroad. They also pointed out to the committee the necessity for their projected routes, Northern, Middle and Southern, and gave detailed descriptions of the country through which it is proposed to run them. The argument closed with an appeal for aid from the Government, so that the roads may be constructed without delay.

A special committee of the Brooklyn Common Council, to which the subject was referred, has agreed to report in favor of subscribing $3,000,000 to the East River Bridge project. The company must first raise $2,000,000. The Mayor, Comptroller, and City Treasurer are to be in the Board of Directors. The work will not commence before before next fall; it will cost $9,000,000.

The total cost of the new Post Office in City Hall Park, New York City, is estimated at $3,500,000, exclusive of half a million for the land. It is thought that the work, if pushed with vigor, can be completed within two years certainly, from the period of commencement.

In the bill for the admission of Alabama, Stevens proposed to strike out after the first section and insert as follows. The proposition was rejected without a division: Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said State of Alabama shall be recognized and admitted into the Union upon the following fundamental conditions: That the right of suffrage of citizens of the United States shall never be denied or abrogated in said State on any account, except for treason, felony, or other crimes infamous of common law, but suffrage as above provided for shall forever be universal and impartial, and Congress shall have power to annul any act of the State in violation or derogation of this act with regard to suffrage, and may regulate the same in case of such alteration. If the right of suffrage of the State of Alabama ever be reduced below the universal right hereinafter provided for, all legislation admitting said State into the Union shall be null and void.

Grant.

BY GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND.

On Thursday night I saw Grant and his wife at the theatre, laughing at John Owens. They are always good and modest people. Mrs. Grant has never given indications of other than a wifely and womanly nature. She has a good face, and is beloved. Grant is far from a fine looking man. He wore at the theatre a dull black hat, and a rough overcoat—his whole dress civilian—and he therefore lost the adventitious aid of buttons and gilt which, while they do not dignify men, scarcely detract from him. That must be a good instinct in woman which goes for buttons and a side sword. The General's face is a study for me always, wearing its look of pain, as if an invisible world pressed him down from above. He always walks as if steadying himself under this load. You can feel his head ache. Wonderful patience seems to be forever just stifling his cry of pain. As to his reticence, so much spoken of, that is only true of things about which you have no business to ask. He will talk to you freely upon Mexico, a theme of constant enthusiasm to him as to Sheridan, his great Lieutenant. Both of them have the Pacific coast passion for conquest in that land, already hallowed with the body of Cortez, and the blood of Maximilian, and sacred in the history of the American army. General Grant will talk by the hour upon the resources of Mexico, the beauty of its climate, its capacity for defense and the strategic routes to its strong positions. He thinks of it as of a dream of young soldierhood, that, if he could retrace life, might open up to him a personal career among the individual captains. We are, alas, never satisfied with what we have. Grant is modest, plain and safe, and our souls upbraid him because he has not the audacity of Bonaparte or the fuss and inches of Winfield Scott. The one man made a usurper; the other gave as his matured advice: "Wayward sisters of the South, depart in peace!" But this man came from the ranks as promptly as Napoleon. His campaigns covered more territory. His victories were as decisive. When he opened the Mississippi, who shut it again? When he conquered Tennessee, who retook it? When he fastened upon Petersburg, who drove him away? He had not the meanness of Napoleon, who filched all the credit of his subordinates; for Grant praised every worthy associate. Invidious criticism and partisanship will in vain seek to demean Grant by exalting his marshals. Sheridan told me the night of the victory of Five Forks—perhaps the most brilliant episode of the war—that General Grant had outlined the battle. If there is any safety in making Presidents of soldiers, Grant is the safest of all soldiers, a simple Republican, who never dreamed an attempt upon the liberties of the people. President or not, this great landscape of the new world is only a pocket map of his victories. Causes and wherefores are played out; he won!

A CONSERVATIVE.—The Copperhead papers of the milk-and-water sort, like the Chicago Times, have called themselves and party "Conservatives." That genuine Democratic paper which expresses the sentiments of its party unreservedly, the LaCrosse Democrat, thus describes a "Conservative:"

"Conservative!"

How we hate the word.

It is a synonym for a coward—one who has no principle—no earnestness—no love of truth—no confidence in the right—no boldness—none of the higher and nobler qualities of manhood.

"Conservative!"

A smooth-tongued, soft-stepping, sly, selfish, treacherous, cold blooded, deceitful, double-faced, forked-tongued sneak.

"Conservative!"

A "neutral" "negative" political thing, "neither fish, flesh nor fowl," a subject upon which we find it utterly impossible to express our feelings, but we beg all that class of politicians to accept our feeble complimentary offering with the assurance that it is the best that we can do for them.

From all
"Conservatives!"
We pray—
"GOOD LORD DELIVER US!"
And to all
"Conservatives!"
We say
"Get thee behind me, Satan!"

General Sheridan completed his dispositions for the battle of Fisher's Hill in the afternoon, and intended to attack early the next morning. A curious coincidence changed his plans, and sent him forward that night to victory. An aide rode up with the announcement, "General Crook sends his compliments, sir, and says he is in position. He'd like to have you know, sir, that his men are in capital spirits." "Glad of it," says Sheridan, "tell him to stay where he is." In less than three minutes up came another aide. "General Wright's compliments, General; he is ready to attack any minute, and the men are rather anxious for it. They were never in better spirits." "Good again!" responded Sheridan. "Tell the General he will hear from me in good time." And hardly had he uttered the words when aide number three came up at a gallop. "General Emory sends his compliments, General. He told me to say to you that the enemy has developed nothing but a weak picket on his left. The corps is in excellent spirits." "Well, now, by George!" exclaimed Sheridan, "if the whole army is in such good trim and temper for the work, why delay it? You, sir," to the last aide, "ride back to General Emory, rapidly, and tell him to attack at once vigorously with his whole force! Major, take the same order to General Wright. Captain, the same to Crook. Mount, gentlemen, mount. We'll have that hill before another hour."—Galaxy.

Offices to be Filled.

[From the Washington [illegible] of the [illegible] Gazette.]

The newspapers have greatly exaggerated the rush upon Mr. Wade in advance for the offices which it is supposed, are soon to be in his gift. Nearly all the office-seekers—albeit a class not noted for delicate attention to its proprieties—have been able to see that, at a time like this, they would not advance their interests by obtrusive appeals.

But there has been no [illegible] to prevent speculation upon the offices likely to be open to applicants. Curiously Mr. Wade is to have an unusual number of diplomatic appointments to make, even if he should make no changes.

First of the present vacancies is the long-vexed Austrian mission. This ranks next in importance and pay to our English and French missions, and according to [illegible] ideas is a place for a first-class man. The popular feeling is that it would be a graceful thing to return John Lothrop Motley, whom Mr. Seward insulted into a resignation. The mission to Russia is of the same grade, and this, too, is now vacant, since the acceptance of the resignation of Cassius M. Clay. Then Mr. John P. Hale, our Minister to Spain, has been requested to resign. It is possible that the impending change in the administration may seem to him sufficient warrant for delaying compliance with the invitation; but the chances are nearly even that the mission to Madrid will also be vacant by the time Mr. Wade [illegible] into power. That to Lisbon may be [illegible] sure to be vacant very soon thereafter, Mr. Seward has kept Mr. James E. Harvey there, in spite of the refusal of Congress to pay his salary, but Mr. Wade is not likely to do it.

More important, in some respects, than any of these, is the mission to Mexico. Good policy would dictate that this be speedily filled by the appointment of a cultivated and judicious [illegible] to the Juarez Government. The [illegible] of Gen. Asboth leaves the mission to Buenos Ayres vacant. That of Mr. Coggeshall has left Ecuador vacant, and the Senate has voted down an effort to unite this with [illegible] of the other [illegible] missions. The mission to Bolivia is of the [illegible] grade ($7,500 in gold), and it also vacant. So is that to the United United States of Colombia and that to Hayti.

And, above all the [illegible] in the foreign service, the mission to Great Britain, is to be vacant in the spring. The man fit to [illegible] Charles Francis Adams, in the midst of [illegible] excitement and the Alabama [illegible] will be hard to find. General Kilpatrick also [illegible] to come home soon, leaving Chili open for another appointment; and the number of consul[illegible] that are or ought to be vacant is quite [illegible]. Altogether, the foreign list, just now, is very attractive to gentlemen who are suddenly discovering that Mr. Wade was all along their first choice.

At home, the openings for [illegible] the special interest of office-seeking patriots. At the outset, every place in the Cabinet is sure to be refilled, excepting that of the Secretary of War. Then the Internal Revenue Department is likely to be swept out from head to foot. There is a probability of immediate or sweeping changes in the postal service; but a good many of Randall's bread and butter brigade may as well be balancing their books. Several Treasury officials, foremost among whom stands the Director of the Statistical Bureau, are pretty sure to be changed for their country's good; and it is seen probable that Collectors of Customs and the like may find it necessary to be really, as well as nominally, Republicans.

George Al[illegible] Tow[illegible]'s Int[illegible] [illegible] the President.

You have read a good deal lately about conversations between the President and [illegible] correspondents. I have had my own little interview of this sort, and review it [illegible] know what sort of figure the President [illegible] when revealing his virtues and [illegible] ists.

I went up to the White House [illegible] writing my [illegible] on a card [illegible] For nearly three hours, I waited in [illegible] ante room, and at last, when nodding in a chair, had my name called stentorially. Then I was ushered so quickly before the President [illegible] the whole fabric of questions I had [illegible] up like a pyramid of mist. The President was dressed in black, had his hair well brushed, and looked good for thirty years of this [illegible] manner was [illegible] I told him I wanted to ask him some questions [illegible] certain points and meant to publish the [illegible] in a Republican newspaper.

"What were those questions?" [illegible]

I told him that I couldn't recollect a single one of them, being very sleepy. I said, however, that they were all [illegible] answers rather than controversial [illegible] been said to me that if Johnson got to [illegible] making he would go like a music-box for four or five hours. If he had [illegible] I should have gone to sleep in the [illegible] once. Therefore I asked two questions, which for impudence have probably never been equaled in the presence of any President [illegible]

"Do you believe that the [illegible] sonal knowledge of its members [illegible] enough to render a fair verdict in your case?"

Answer—"Well, you see, on this pint, as it's just coming up, just at this time, I should have to answer it a little later, you will [illegible] on this pint."

Question—"Will you [illegible] to suspend you during trial?"

Answer—"Well, on that pint, also, as it's about just coming prominent up, you see, on that pint I shouldn't care just yet to have my [illegible] as it were, spread before the people. That is the other pint I'll come to, p'raps, at a [illegible] time."

Here the President referred to some old message or speech he had sent to [illegible], and with a sigh I begged to be allowed to [illegible] the interview when he had more leisure and I more patience.

Johnson's conversation [illegible] stump speeches. He takes up a lead pencil, strikes the table with it, says "There!" at every climax, bellows, cries "My God!" when at every fifth minute appealing to [illegible] for the nobility of his motives, and trusts all sorts of people with the very privacy of his soul. One of the correspondents went to see him some time ago; and hearing him talk about three hours, re[illegible] to his office and wrote a series of questions and answers, not a twentieth part of which, he says, ever [illegible] between himself and the President. He read the manuscript to Johnson, who replied "Why, you got me very faithful. You got all them points exactly as I told you!" The fact is, Johnson is always reported with [illegible] than he speaks, and in a way to give him a better figure before the country than he makes in private. He is a dreary talker.

The following is an extract from a letter from a gentleman in Georgia to an old merchant in New York:

"We are not sorry to learn that Mr. Johnson is to be removed from office. But for him, this State and half a dozen others would have followed Tennessee in accepting the Constitutional Amendment, by which we should have been represented at Washington twelve months since. The evils Mr Johnson has inflicted upon the South by his efforts to thwart the views of Congress have been second only to the spoliations of war, but, depend upon it, within sixty days after his removal we shall have a gradual return of quiet and prosperity throughout the South. Remember what I say."

The Oshkosh Times gives us the following "Black Crook" story:

"My dear," said the wife, "the 'Black Crook' is here, shall we witness it tonight?"

"Well," said the husband, "I'd better go alone to-night and see if it is a proper place for ladies."

"Yes—well," says the wife, "I rather guess I'd better go alone and see if it is a proper place for gentlemen."

Both went.

A Scotch duchess was present at a charity school questioning. "What is the wife of a king," she asked. "A queen," was the answer. "Of an emperor?" "An empress." "The wife a duke?" "A drake!"

Co. Commissioners—E. J. NORTHRUP, H. HANSON
Coroner—Dr. J. W. MACK
Surveyor—G. W. BURRAGE.
School Superintendent—T. M. GATCH

FEARFUL STATE OF THINGS.—The "Democratic" organ at Savannah, Georgia, announces that A. H. Stephens, Vice President of the late Confederacy, has returned home from a protracted visit at the North; that Stephens had a full and frank interchange of views with the people of the North, and that they did not seem to give the slightest attention to the fact that they were ruled by a self-perpetuating despotism. In the large cities, Mr. Stephens said, the people never neglected their private business to uphold State rights in [illegible]; that they attended to their trade and commerce, building railroads, extending their cities, bridging rivers, opening trade with China and Japan, putting new lands under cultivation, opening new mines and busying themselves with all manner of vulgar occupations, to the neglect of Andrew Johnson and State sovereignty. Surrounded by this unbounded prosperity, with capital and labor actively and profitably employed, with real estate advancing in value with unprecedented speed; with peace, order and plenty on all hands, Mr. Stephens stood like one who seemed to care a pin about high politics or Southern rights. Only at Democratic [illegible], and only by second class politicians could Mr. Stephens hear a word recognizing the fact that the legitimate government of the United States had ceased to exist, and that a [illegible] was now governing at Washington. No one seemed to be aware that the people were ruined and had lost their freedom. The [illegible] of excitement was whether [illegible] would [illegible] the owner of the Erie, or be driven back to Harlem. A billiard match attracted more attention than one of the Georgia [illegible] State Rights orations, and generally the Confederacy and its surviving actors were regarded as on a par with Barnum's fat woman, [illegible] giantess, the gorilla, the Black Crook, and other living or dead curiosities. Dreadful state of things! A whole people enslaved, and unaware of their servitude and [illegible]!

The Democracy of California went into the last campaign promising workingmen an eight hour law. An act was passed by the Legislature to the effect that eight hours shall be a legal day's work, unless otherwise agreed between the parties contracting. This, of course, is simple nonsense. It was also provided that eight hours shall constitute a legal day's work when the same is performed under the [illegible] of the State. Now comes the point. The Democratic Board of State Capitol Commissioners have resolved "that on and after the [illegible] of April, 1868, until further notice, the wages of all persons employed upon the State Capitol building who are paid by the hour, as follows: Those whose wages are now $5 per day shall be allowed [illegible] at 60 cents per hour, those receiving now $3 per day shall have [illegible] cents per hour, and all others in the same proportion." That is, the Democrats have passed an eight-hour law and reduced the wages of laborers to correspond. The men at work on the State Capitol "struck" at this, and it is said will not vote the Democratic ticket. Democratic sympathy for the laboring men is a thing they do not quite appreciate.

The Charleston Gazette answers the question, "Who are the bondholders?" by publishing a list of the "private" residents holding United States securities in that city, with the amounts owned by each respectively. The whole number is [illegible] hundred and [illegible]-eight, of whom only ninety-four hold [illegible] of over one thousand dollars each and only four over ten thousand each. The largest single amount is $17,420, belonging to [illegible]. Six hundred and thirty [illegible] hold sums of less than one thousand dollars each. The names of a large proportion of these "bloated aristocrats," indicate that they are of German and Irish extraction.

The Copperhead papers are eloquent over the wrongs and indignities which the people (rebels) of the South are compelled to endure. They call it a terrible outrage that the registry in some States puts them in a minority. Now the fact is, those rebels are extremely fortunate in being allowed to vote at all. They forfeited their political rights, and it would have been right had it been decided to withhold absolutely from them all political power. Having been already shown lenity, and favor than they deserve, it does not become them to complain.

The Dalles [illegible] has a letter from Canyon City which states the weather there has been cold and disagreeable, and that very little mining has as yet been done. The farmers are putting in large crops of grain. Politically, he says, everything is very warm; in fact, most too warm for some. The stages come and go regularly between Canyon City and the Dalles semi-weekly, and the roads are getting in good order.

The Union ticket nominated in Lane county on Saturday is as follows: For State Senator, W. W. Bristow; Representatives, W. H. Odell, N. Martin and J. C. Smith; Sheriff, David Bruce, Clerk, Rufus Callison; Treasurer, B. F. Dunn, County Commissioners, T. D. Edwards and T. J. Vaughn. The proceedings in the Convention were harmonious, and the ticket is regarded as a strong one.

Parties from the Willow and Shasta Creeks mines inform the Mountaineer that there will be nothing done there this season for want of water. The Burnt river ditch will not be completed before next fall if it will be then. Our impression is that the John Day country is a far better one to prospect in than any east of the Blue Mountains.

The Republican canvass of New Hampshire, prior to the election in that State, was surprisingly accurate. The difference between the canvass and the actual vote cast by the Republicans was only 112. If the party in this State would work on the New Hampshire principle, it would be sure of two thousand majority in every election.

The candidates for Congress will speak at Hillsboro on Thursday, May 7th, instead of Wednesday, May 6th, as stated in the list of appointments first published.

Albert Igo has been tried at Lewiston on a charge of having killed Wm. Page some time ago. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

In the mining districts above Lewiston the miners have resumed work with fair success.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 27.

Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—In the Senate on the 24th an order was adopted fixing the hour for meeting at 12 o'clock.

Nelson resumed his speech, and concluded his argument in favor of the proposition that no offenses are impeachable except those defined as crimes and misdemeanors at the time the Constitution was framed.

In Nelson's argument to-day in the impeachment trial, he stated that Judge Black had withdrawn from the case because the President had refused to send vessels to seize the island of Alta Vela, the President refusing on the ground of public duty and against the solicitations of friends and the implied threats of enemies.

Nelson proceeded to consider the articles of impeachment separately. He held that in the first place there was a distinction made by both common and statute law between crime and an attempt. As the civil tenure bill [illegible] only to [illegible] from [illegible], and the President had made none, the charges made in most of the articles fail. Aside from this objection which though technical should have weight, he would maintain three propositions: That the Tenure of Office law is void; if not, that Stanton is not covered by it; and even if it is legal and applicable that the President is not guilty of crime because he acted from laudable motives. He quoted at great length from the debates on the formation of the Constitution and the passage of the act of 1789, and from numerous legal authorities to show that the question of the President's power of removal was definitely settled by action of Congress at that time. He next considered the position that Congress has by implication a superior power to the Executive. He maintained that no greater powers were granted in that way to the legislative than to the executive branch of the Government. At this point the Senate took a recess of fifteen minutes.

On reassembling, Nelson continued the citation of authorities in support of the President's views on the question of his power of removal. He proceeded to argue that the President had the same power to construe acts of Congress as Congress itself, again supporting his views by numerous quotations. All preceding arguments he held proved that the tenure of office law is unconstitutional and void. Nelson then elaborately discussed the proposition that no charge can be maintained which does not allege criminal intent, which he said was not done except in the fifth article. The Senate adjourned at the conclusion of Nelson's remarks.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—In the Senate the order offered by Sumner was that the Senate proceed to vote on the several articles at 12 o'clock the day after the final arguments shall be concluded. Johnson objected and the order went over under the rules.

Sumner then offered two additional rules, gathered he said, from previous practice in impeachment cases. That in taking the votes of the Senate on the articles of impeachment, the presiding officer shall call each Senator by name and ask him, "Now, say you guilty or not guilty as charged?" specifying the articles. Each Senator when the question is so put to him, shall rise in his seat and answer "guilty," or "not guilty."

Sumner offered as rule 24th, that in case of conviction by the Senate, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer to forthwith pronounce the removal from office of the convicted person, according to the requirements of the Constitution, and any further judgment shall be on the order of the Senate. Johnson again objected and the rules went over.

Groesbeck then addressed the Senate. He proceeded to consider whether or not the Senate is now sitting as a Court. He said he would not discuss it in the light of English precedents, but with reference to our own Constitution which countenanced neither bills of attainder nor irresponsible tribunals to be law unto themselves. He first called attention to the fact that the provisions of the Constitution as first drafted, contemplated impeachment for malpractice and neglect of duty in the office, but those adopted permit only for treason, bribery or similar high crimes and misdemeanors. He then challenges proof to show that during any of the trials which form our precedents, the idea that the Senate was not a Court had ever been advanced. He read from the records of each, their language in which the Senate on those occasions styled itself the Court. He also quoted Story and other authorities to show the judicial character of the Senate, and the reasons they must bring to the discharge of their obligations. In reference to their jurisdiction, he held that the only question for them to decide was that of crime or no crime; and, further, that no action could be so considered in connection with which evil intention was not brought. He illustrated the opposition by considering a case of homicide committed by a madman, and the supposition that the President should violate the law after losing his reason, and by reference to acts of Lincoln in constituting military tribunals in loyal States, which conduct, though pronounced destitute of warrant by the Supreme Court, had been upheld by Congress on the ground that the motive was good. Having thus, as he claimed, shown the fatality of the doctrine advanced by the Managers on that subject, he would now consider the question whether the President had a right to remove Stanton, and grant a letter of authority to Gen. Thomas, for on these two issues hang the fate of the eighth article.

As to the first point he held that the civil tenure of law did not apply to Stanton, because he was not appointed by Johnson, but even if Johnson is not serving his own but Lincoln's term, Stanton's tenure of office expired one month after the expiration of his first term. Stanton could be removed by him, and so equally can he by Johnson, if the latter is merely serving out the remainder of his term.

In support of his proposition that the President had power to remove Stanton under the law of 1789, Groesbeck quoted the letter by Adams to Pickering, announcing not that he was to be removed, but that he was actually removed and his [illegible] appointed.

He said that his feeble health to-day, obliged him to pass by with mere reference to the utterances of the Senators at the time of the passage of the Tenure of Office bill. He went on to argue that all admitted there was room for difference of opinion of law; that as the President had availed himself of those especially designated by the Constitution to be given him he must be held guilty of criminality in construing it as he did. He held that sufficient doubt of the constitutionality of the law existed to warrant the President to take the measures he did to test the matter. Groesbeck proceeded to argue various points relating to articles of impeachment and concluded by expressing his confidence in the final result. He paid a glowing eulogy on the life, character and services of the President.

The Court and Senate adjourned at half-past four.

In the Senate, the Chief Justice stated that the first business in order was the motion offered by Edmunds yesterday, admitting official reporters to report proceedings on final question of Edmunds. At the suggestion of several Senators he moved to postpone it till Monday. Agreed to.

Sumner offered two additional rules which went over. Groesbeck spoke for the defense.

General Rousseau arrived this morning direct from the Pacific coast.

New York Items.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The police broke up a prize fight near this city early this morning, and lodged the principals in jail. Both parties are blind from the effects of blows received, and otherwise badly punished.

At a large Fenian meeting on Thursday night, the floors of the hall gave way and precipitated 300 persons to the basement. One man was killed, and about twenty more or less injured.

Two men were murdered in a gambling saloon last night, by Theodore Cameron, proprietor of the saloon. Cameron surrendered himself, claiming that the deed was done in self defense.

Southern News.

RICHMOND, April 24.—Gen. Schofield has issued an order that: Whereas Congress made no appropriations for defraying the expenses of election in Virginia for the ratification or rejection of the Constitution, the election will not take place till June 2d, unless Congress makes appropriation before that date.

WILMINGTON, April 24.—The Republican Convention for the State of Delaware met and appointed delegates to the National Convention. The resolutions favor Grant and endorse the impeachment. One of the resolutions declare in favor of the Constitutional Amendment, and establishing impartial suffrage throughout the Republic. The resolution excited warm opposition, but was adopted by 75 to 37. The delegates are not instructed in regard to Vice President, but it is believed that they will be in favor of Wade.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Returns from North Carolina are by counties. No general estimate is announced. The vote on the Constitution is very close and it will require the returns from the extreme western counties to decide the result.

The same statement is true in regard to Georgia.

Gen. Meade has ordered the Savannah Advertiser to cease publishing inflammatory and incendiary articles or he will suppress it.

RALEIGH, April 25.—Returns received to-day render it certain that the constitution is ratified. Even the conservatives and radicals concede this. The radicals claim the ratification by several thousand majority. Boyndon is probably the only conservative elected to Congress.

AUGUSTA, April 25.—The election returns are rather conflicting. The Democrats admit the ratification of the constitution, but claim the election of Gordon as Governor.

WILMINGTON, April 26.—The result of the election is still in doubt. The vote is very close and intense excitement prevails, but no disturbances occurred. Returns from the extreme western counties are anxiously looked for, as they will decide whether the constitution has been ratified. The Legislature will probably be about equally divided.

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—The result of the election is not fully ascertained, but the majority for the constitution is not less than 20,000, with a large majority of Republicans in the Legislature.

Republican Victories in North Carolina and Georgia.

NEW YORK, 27.—The Tribune's Atlanta special thinks the Constitution is ratified by at least 7,000 majority. Bullock, Republican, was elected Governor by 5,000 majority. It is probable that the Democrats have a majority in the Legislature, but it remains to be seen whether enough of them can take the test oath to make a quorum.

The Tribune's Raleigh special says the Constitution is undoubtedly ratified, as the whole State ticket was elected by 25,000 majority. The Legislature will be largely Republican.

General Order Issued by Grant.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A General Order is just issued by Gen. Grant, directing the district commanders to cause all vessels arriving at ports within their command from ports infected with cholera or yellow fever, to be quarantined fifteen days.

New Cutters for the Pacific Coast.

The Secretary of the Treasury in a communication to the House to-day, says he is in special need of four steamers for marine cutter service: one at Alaska, one on the Columbia river and coast of Oregon, one for Charleston and one for Mobile.

Gen. Schofield nominated for Secretary of War.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of Thos. Ewing to be Secretary of War, by sending to the Senate the name of Gen. J. M. Schofield to be Secretary of War in the place of E. M. Stanton, to be removed.

The Senate had a short session but the proceedings were unimportant.

Politics in Arkansas.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Herald's special says that the Arkansas Senators and a portion of the Congressmen elect from that State, have arrived with the Constitution lately adopted. The new Constitution will probably not be presented to Congress till the close of the impeachment trial. It is understood the conservatives are making an effort to nullify the election on the ground of fraud. No official returns of the election have yet been received from Gen. Gillem.

Thanks to Stanton.

A delegation of Radicals from Danville, Va., visited Stanton yesterday and thanked him for remaining at his post.

Further from the Impeachment Trial.

CHICAGO, April 25.—A Republican special mentions a rumor that the President's resignation is already written out and will be presented as soon as his counsel have completed the argument in his defence.

The Tribune's Washington special says Nelson in his speech alluded to Chief Justice Chase, arguing that he had a right to deliver a charge to the impeachment court when all evidence is in and previous to their retirement for consultation on their verdict. This has drawn out considerable comment and it is stated in many quarters that the Chief Justice entertains the same opinion and that he will so act when the proper time arrives. We have authority for saying these rumors are founded on fact. Chase has not expressed an opinion on the subject to any one.

Miscellaneous.

ATLANTA, April 24.—In the Cole case to-day the testimony for the defense was concluded. Most of the witnesses examined were in reference to Gen. Cole's insanity. [illegible] evidence tended to show that both [illegible] and [illegible] are both affected by an injury received in the war.

NEW YORK, 24.—The trial of Edwin Kelley for the murder of [illegible] Sharley, both well known negro minstrels, commenced to-day.

OTTAWA, April 25.—Two detectives swear to having overheard conversation between Whelan and Doyle in jail, in which Whelan admitted that he shot D'Arcy McGee, and seemed to take pride in the idea that his name will be handed down to posterity as a great man.

BOSTON, April 21.—A Democratic Convention is called to meet at Worcester, May 20th, to choose delegates to the National Convention.

The second trial of John H. Surratt is fixed for May 14th.

From Mexico.

SAVANNAH, April 25.—Late dates from Mexico say that Negretta with 500 men is openly in arms against the government. Many foreigners were arrested during the last month, but only five persons were expelled from the country. None were Frenchmen.

The war in Sinaloa is progressing. The revolutionists have one thousand men in Coronas and five hundred in Santa Cruz, other towns are paralyzed.

The Ortegas party are making strong efforts to secure the allies with their chief Negretta. The Leon and other stages leaving the capital are almost regularly robbed.

A war of races is continuing in Balize. The English are gaining ground.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 23.—William C. Rives died at his residence to-day, aged seventy five years.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, April 24.—The budget was introduced in the House last evening. It formed the chief topic of editorials this morning. The Times and most of the liberal journals are dissatisfied with the estimates. They say the budget is indefinite and unsafe.

The Times predicts that a supplement to the estimates will be found necessary to meet deficiencies, and thinks any new burdens ought to fall on customs and not on incomes as proposed by the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Late important intelligence from Japan via Shanghai, states that the Tycoon, in the name of the government of the Mikado, offers indemnity for the murder of French sailors at Osaca.

The trial of Fenians charged with complicity in the Clerkenwell explosion, is continued. After the examination of a few other witnesses, the prosecution rested the case.

Counsel for O'Keife moved the entry of a nolle prosequi in the case of his client. Counsel for Barrett said he would prove his client was in Glasgow when the explosion occurred. After argument of counsel for the defence the court adjourned till to-morrow.

LONDON, April 24—Midnight.—In the House of Lords this evening, Lord Stanley, in answer to the question, admitted that the Emperor of Russia had made secret proposals to the British Government, in regard to the Cretan difficulty, which could not be divulged without the consent of the Czar.

Prince Alfred Shot.

The startling intelligence has been received from Australia that Prince Alfred, who is visiting Sydney, was shot and dangerously wounded by an unknown person. The would-be assassin, who is said to be a Fenian, was promptly arrested. The Prince, according to last advices, was slowly recovering.

It is believed the substance of England's reply to the Emperor of Russia was that proceedings looking to the independence of Crete, which the Sublime Porte will not concede without compulsion, is a policy which is impossible for Great Britain to pursue.

LONDON, April 25.—Particulars of the attempted assassination of Prince Alfred, state that the culprit is an Irishman named Farrell, known to be connected with the Fenian organization, who shot the Prince in the back on the 2d of March. The ball was not extracted for two days. The wound is dangerous and painful, but the Prince is doing well, though his recovery will necessarily be slow. Under medical advice he has sailed for England.

Earl Kimberley is appointed Governor of the Hudson Bay Company.

Gladstone has published a card in the Times denying a host of personal charges against him.

The attempted assassination of Prince Alfred has created profound excitement throughout the nation. The press teems with denunciations of the assassination.

The trial of the Clerkenwell prisoners has been resumed. The evidence is closed and the Attorney General has summoned up the case for the prosecution. It is urged that the proof against the prisoners is established beyond a doubt, although it is admitted there were doubts in regard to the complicity of Timothy Desmond.

Abyssinian War—Theodore Slain and his Capital Carried by Storm.

LONDON, April 26.—Dispatches from Abyssinia state a battle was fought on Good Friday before Magdala. King Theodore commanded in person and was defeated. He retreated into town. Their loss was heavy. On the Monday following, Gen. Napier, ordered an assault upon Magdala. The town and citadel were carried by storm. King Theodore was slain and a large number of his warriors killed, wounded and taken prisoners. The capital remains in the possession of the British. The loss of the British was small. The British captives were found in the city alive and well and were set free. Napier's immediate return to the sea coast is expected.

BERLIN, April 24.—Bismarck says, unofficially, the loss of the bill relative to the Federal debt which was withdrawn from the Parliament on account of a disposition on the part of the liberal members to amend it, will put an end to the building of ships and fortifications.

The reduction of the Prussian army to a peace footing will begin on the 1st May.

Prince of Wales Set [illegible] to England.

DUBLIN, April 24.—The Prince of Wales embarked for England to-day. Before sailing he gave a dinner on board the royal yacht. About forty guests were present, and the utmost good feeling and enthusiasm prevailed.

From Spain.

MADRID, April 25.—The following is the new Cabinet: Brambo Muello, President, vice Narvaez, deceased; Minister of the Interior, Ruscall; Minister of Justice and Foreign Affairs, Mighaldi; Minister of War, Arralda; Minister to France, Catalund; Minister of Public Works, Banco. F[illegible] is appointed Minister of War, and Concha is Marshal of the Camp. The policy of the new Ministry will be identical with that of the former.

PARIS, April 25.—Dispatches from various parts of Spain report that the disturbances have been suppressed.

PARIS, April 26.—In consequence of the recent affairs in Japan and the outrages on French citizens, the French fleet in Japanese waters is to be augmented. Orders to that effect are already issued.

Further from Abyssinia.

LONDON, April 27.—Still later advices from Abyssinia, dated April 15, report that only 14,000 native troops have laid down their arms. Theodore had 5,000 soldiers killed and 1,500 wounded in the late battle. Advices from Napier's headquarters at Magdala state that the Europeans which have been held captive there, numbering sixty souls, including men, women and children, are already en route for Todjalar. The entire force of Theodore's army has been either killed, wounded or captured. Napier takes by his victory the 28 large guns just used against him, 5,000 stands of small arms, 10,000 shields, such as are used in open battle by the Abyssinians, 10,000 spears and many other articles of war. After the works were completely taken, King Theodore was found dead by the soldiers on entering the centre of his stronghold. He was shot through the head. Some persons say he was killed during one of the battles, others incline to the opinion that he committed suicide when he found that the fortunes of the day were against him. The King's body was recognized among the killed and wounded by the British captives when they were released. Theodore's two sons were taken prisoners.

The interior of the fortress at Magdala presented a splendid sight, and the place glowed with barbaric splendor. The British troops plundered it at once. They found four royal crowns made of solid gold, $20,000 in silver, 10,000 silver plates, and several lots of rich jewels and other articles of great value.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—The Democratic County Convention met last evening pursuant to adjournment. After considerable discussion a resolution was adopted that a committee of one from each ward be appointed to select delegates to the State Convention to be submitted to this Convention for approval.

The following resolution was adopted with only one or two dissenting votes:

Resolved, That the delegates chosen by this Convention to the State Convention be instructed to vote in the Congressional Convention for Hon. S. B. Axtell for Congress.

The Convention adjourned until Monday next, with three cheers for Axtell.

The body of the drowned man found near Fort Point yesterday, has been indentified as that of D. H. Poole, who committed suicide, April 13th, by jumping into the bay from the wharf.

The Trustees of the Labor Exchange of Mechanics State Council have ordered the exchange to be opened at the house carpenter's Committee rooms, corner Market and Second streets.

Minister Burlingame and suite visited Angel Island yesterday in a government steamer.

The dining room at the Lick house was yesterday furnished with the paintings and mirrors destined for its walls, making it the finest dining room in the United States.

The grand dinner to be given to the Chinese Embassy is to be given Tuesday evening next.

Major General Ord, the successor of General McDowell as Commander of the Department of California, was serenaded at the Cosmopolitan last evening.

The Committee selected to canvass for subscriptions for the liquidation of the debt of St. Mary's Cathedral, have collected since Wednesday, $13,773.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons went to Redwood City to-day, to attend the Odd Fellows' picnic.

A Chinaman fell into a cistern at the corner of Bush and Powell streets, and was killed by the fall.

Tom. Maguire has engaged the Parepa Rosa opera troupe, to arrive here next June.

The steamer Sonora got adrift yesterday, and was near being swept out to sea.

Horrible Outrage in Petaluma.

A dispatch from Petaluma reports that a negro last night, attempted to outrage the person of a little German girl, only three years of age. An attempt was made to lynch the negro, but he was rescued and lodged in jail.

Wm. Woods, a returned volunteer, was drowned in Napa Creek on Saturday night.

The steamer Great Republic is advertised to sail for Yokohama on the 3d of June. She will probably be followed in July by the new steamer Japan, now en route to this port from New York.

REPLY

TO THE

Agents of the Northwestern Ins Co.,

OF MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN.

An advertisement having appeared in the last daily issue of the OREGONIAN, with intent to injure and traduce, deserves neither reply nor notice, being anonymous, and evidently a badly constructed lie. Q., had he been an honest man, would have signed his name and address! And you, gentlemen of the Northwestern, although you inserted the advertisement, were ashamed to endorse your act. But as the mixed up allegations might mystify some of our policy holders, from us, as agents of the Mutual Life, a brief reply is due. We will give an example of what we do know and can prove. Policy holder No. 45,695, a resident near Portland, pays annually a premium of $424, due February 14th. Last February his dividend statement, advised him of a credit for the past year of $104 14 cash, or reversionary value of $176 17. This gentleman has only been insured two years. His first annual dividend is not included in this statement. By his request to us a cheque for the amount of his dividend was placed to his credit in the Bank of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton. This example applies to every policy-holder in the Mutual Life.

A few words of advice may be beneficial, you, as live agents, may not like it, but having provoked it, accept it with a good grace. For the future, instead of inserting squibs which you must know are false, but of which you are certainly ashamed to endorse with your names, you would do much better, and more honorably, if you would publicly advertise the status of the Northwestern, which company, although mentioned in the Massachusetts report, is not mentioned by the Insurance Commissioners for the State of New York in their report. For instance if the assets of the Northwestern are cash or paper, how invested, and if in proportion to liabilities, if you refund surplus charge for cost of insurance, and profits annually from date of policy, or if the dividends are withheld for three years, with the usual details that prove the solidity and system of a perfectly responsible company. Again, if you cannot compete with the Mutual Life without traducing it, do not be ashamed to endorse your "squibs" that, like badly constructed fireworks, burn your own fingers.

We have no intention of replying to any more squibs, advertising correspondence is too costly for agents. The reputation of the Mutual Life is sufficiently established, and we have quite enough to do to attend to our own business—an old maxim that you would do well to follow.

Thanking you for your unintentional good offices in proving by the evidence of Q. that the dividends of the Mutual Life are very satisfactory,

We remain,
BUTLER & HEATH,
Agts. for Mutual Life Insurance Co. of N. Y.

THE OREGON AND IDAHO TELEGRAPH.—Within the last few days a company has been organized, under the name of the Oregon and Idaho Telegraph Co Messrs W S Ladd, S G Reed, J R Foster, J B Harker and S G Reed being the incorporators for the purpose of constructing and operating a telegraph line from Portland to Boise City. It is proposed to construct the line by way of the Dalles, Umatilla, Walla Walla, Summerville, La Grande, Union town, and all the other principal places between the initial points. Stock books will soon be opened in this city, and papers will be circulated in such towns elsewhere as are likely to be touched by the line. The early construction of the line will depend somewhat upon the manner in which the people up the Columbia river valley may take to it. It is proposed to offer them the opportunity to take stock in the company, to subscribe on certain conditions, or to donate directly toward the construction of the line. The terms of subscription are, that any sum may be subscribed with the understanding that the subscriber shall have the amount refunded to him in stock. Subscriptions are not to be payable till the line shall reach the town in or near which the subscriber resides. For example, the subscribers at Umatilla will not be required to pay till the line shall be built from Portland to that place; and so of the subscriptions at other places. By this plan all the business men along the route may contribute to the enterprise, without loss to themselves and do much to facilitate business between the several sections connected. We are informed that the line now being constructed by the O. S. N. Co to the Dalles will be completed in the course of five or six weeks, and if the business men of Portland and up the Columbia, will take hold of the matter in the right manner, the line to Boise City may be put in operation by the 1st of August. In this connection we may mention that the Western Union Telegraph Co will push the construction of a line from Unionville, Nevada to Boise City. It is needless to enlarge upon the advantages which this city and the Columbia towns must derive from an early telegraphic communication with Idaho, where some of our best customers are doing business. Should the Oregon and Idaho line be completed in advance of that contemplated by the Western Union Telegraph Co, it could also first connect with the Montana line and thus secure all the business of the great mining region beyond Owyhee. The gentlemen who have organized themselves as incorporators and became the officers of the Oregon and Idaho Co mean business and believe that, if their efforts are met with the proper spirit, the line shall be built this summer. Their business connections are sufficiently well established to be a certain guarantee that the scheme will be conducted on a safe and just basis for all concerned.

THE INDIAN CAMPAIGN.—Capt. Wm. Kelly furnishes the Mountaineer with considerable interesting information regarding the campaign against the Indians in the vicinity of Steen's Mountain, which we condense as follows: On the 14th February, Gen Crook's command had a fight with the Indians near Dunder and Blitzen, in which twelve redskins were killed and two captured. One soldier was slightly wounded. A few nights afterwards, the Indians got among his herd of animals and killed the mules and eleven horses, including the General's, by shooting them down with their arrows and then cutting their throats. The night was so dark that the herd guards never discovered what had happened until the following day. Next day the General continued his march to Camp Warner, and when some distance from their last camp, he sent back six men to see if any of the Indians had returned. When they arrived there, they found two bucks cutting up the flesh of the horses and mules. They killed these and seeing no signs of any others they returned to the command.

On the night of the 30th of March, Major Perry and Lieut. Stanton, with fifty men of Company F, 1st Cavalry, Captain Kelly with fifty men of Company C, 8th Cavalry and Lieut. Rice, 23d Infantry, with nine scouts and two guards, started to find the Indians supposed to be about forty or fifty miles off in the Malheur country. After a long and tedious march, on the morning of April 5th, the Indians were found camped under large juniper trees on the top of the mountain. The troops were posted so as to surround them and one detachment was placed within thirty yards of the Indians. In a few minutes after, an old squaw came out from her bed and commenced building a fire, when on looking around she discovered the soldiers within a few yards of her. She immediately gave the alarm and the whole band rushed pell mell in all directions, jumping off the bluff of rocks over thirty feet high, but only to be met by the soldiers stationed below to receive them. In a few minutes the whole band was killed, numbering in all thirty. The soldiers afterwards found a squaw and child who were the only prisoners taken. So complete was the surprise that but few of the Indians probably not more than three or four and they badly wounded. On the 6th inst., the command returned to Harney.

From the Mountaineer, of Saturday, we clip the following items: During the week large quantities of freight have gone into the interior. The prices are about the same as quoted last week. There has been no material change in our city prices current, except in dry goods and clothing, which are a shade lower. Intelligence has reached us from the Ochoco that Mrs. Thomas Smith left there and reported the Indians as having run off a number of head of cattle. Captain John Smith last night sending a party from the settlement in a few days to ascertain if anything has happened to them.....The Rev. Father Buchard, S. J., who came to give a mission at St. Peters Church, in this city, arrived last evening. He will probably remain here about seven days, during which time he will preach at St. Peter's Church.....The Columbia river has already commenced falling. From present appearances we shall not be troubled with high water this year.....The frame of the Woolen Manufacturing Company's building is up. Mr. Stephen H. Meek, the old pioneer guide, who is trying to raise a company for the purpose of prospecting for the "Emigrant Diggings," left for that section of country the fore part of the week. He did not succeed in raising a company here, but expects to do so when he reaches Canyon City.

ODD FELLOWS' CELEBRATION.—The members of the several Lodges of Odd Fellows in this city and East Portland, are celebrating the 49th anniversary of the founding of the first lodge of the Order in the United States. The procession was formed on Front street in front of their hall, and headed by the Mechanics' Brass Band, marched to the Court House, where an appropriate address was delivered by Bro J. H. Mitchell. At the conclusion of the address, the brethren marched back to the hall and thence dispersed, without further ceremony. The anniversary is one which Odd Fellows throughout the United States, almost invariably celebrate. Heretofore, in this city, the members of the Order have generally had expensive demonstrations, but this year it was concluded to observe the day with proceedings more informal and comparatively inexpensive.

SITKA MAILS.—Postmaster has received a notice that instructions have been forwarded to the San Francisco office to forward all mail matter for Sitka, to Port Townsend, at the suggestion of the agent Treasury Department, to be made up here and sent to the Agent there, by whom they will be forwarded by the Active to Sitka. It is understood that the owner of the Fideliter has submitted to the Post Office Department, a bid for the regular carriage of the mails between Portland and Sitka, but it is not probable that any mail transportation other than in the manner above mentioned will be soon provided.

HUMAN FREIGHT.—The Grand Jury of Yamhill county have found bills against a gang of hog and cattle stealers, at the late term of the Circuit Court. Five of the precious fellows were indicted, and the sheriff getting after them, they incontinently fled their country for their country's good. They crossed the Lafayette bridge one dark night, rolled up in blankets and marked as freight. We hear they are still at large, and that if that freight exceeds the limits of the State, it will find itself under the necessity of getting up and dusting in a very lively way on its own proper legs.

ILLICIT DISTILLERY.—During the last week, U S Marshal Keller, seized the apparatus and stock on hand of an illicit distillery, belonging to a man named Hess, in this county. The distiller was not exactly prepared to part with his life, his fortune, etc, and the sacred and valued acquaintance of the Marshal, but very politely went away and left the place in such a manner as to afford the least possible trouble in the matter. In short, he had ingloriously cut stick.

DROWNED.—Just as the steamer Wenat was leaving the city yesterday, the body of a drowned man was discovered floating in the river near the ferry landing. It was picked up by some men in a skiff, and the body was discovered to be that of James Heard, who had been missing since about Thursday, the 16th. A coroner's inquest was held, and the jury found a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased was an Englishman, and GO ON AND GO WAY.—A Celestial gentleman who rejoices in the name of Go Way is in limbo because he beat a countryman, and allow his countryman, Go On, to go on his way. Go Way was arrested at the instigation of Go On, and his trial at the instigation of the Celestial this morning, if Go On is believed that Mr. Go Way will go on in such a way.

ARRIVALS.—Arrived yesterday per steamer pig iron. Per steamer 225 boxes goods, 13 bales, 7 bbls, 5 boxes and 320 bags wheat, 584 qr sks flour, 34 boxes eggs, 2 gunnies, hams, 350 sks skins, 4 cases lard and 10 tons pig iron. Per 1,600 qr sks flour, 120 bags wheat, 27 hf boxes eggs, 1 bundle.

THE "GEO. L. WOODS."—Mr. Elliott informs us that the reason why the locomotive "Geo. L. Woods" has not before now, been shipped up from San Francisco, is that it could not if here be taken across the river at East Portland. As soon as the City Council shall designate the location of the bridge, the Railroad company will construct a wharf at the opposite landing, and then the locomotive will be brought up.

WOOD.—For several days the steamers have brought immense piles of it corded up on each trip, considerable quantities of wood from Oswego. We are informed that about the wholesale wood business somewhat a wholesale wood business. The wood brought down is mostly for the foundries.

HELD LETTERS.—The following letters are retained in the Post Office for pre-payment: Mrs Hannah C. McCurdy, Victoria; Mrs. S. W. Harrison San Francisco, Cal; Mrs Dr Powell Victoria F. Morris, Scranton, Pa; Geo. Eagleton, Forest Grove, Oregon; S. Durbin, Salem, Oregon; Bliss & Wise, Corvallis.

RELIGIOUS MEETING.—Rev Mr Mayfield, of Washington county, will hold a basket meeting on Sauvie's Island, commencing on Thursday preceding the third Sunday in May, and designed to include the day last named.

FOREST GROVE EXPRESS.—Jamison's Express for Forest Grove will not leave this city till Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. Tuesday is the usual day.

POSTAL MATTERS.—Postal Agent, G. A. Brooks is going on a tour through some portions of Eastern Oregon for the purpose of inspecting the routes and post offices, especially those along the Canyon City road. The people in that region desire some additional service which Mr Brooks will probably recommend.

SPRUCE BEER.—We are indebted to Mr Wm H Wel.. for a dozen of spruce beer an excellent temperance beverage for warm weather. Mr W at the Excelsior Soda Works, manufactures the article and dispenses it at wholesale or otherwise to our customers.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—The Corvallis Gazette says the steamer Echo met with an accident the other day, by which the top of the pilot house was knocked off. In a narrow place a swift current carried her against a leaning tree.

TREASURE SHIPMENT.—The amount of treasure shipped by the steamer Ajax on Saturday evening, was $43,000, of which sum Wells Fargo & Co sent $20,000; Ladd & Tilton, $15,000; private parties, $10,000.

REPRESENTATIVES TO THE GRAND LODGE. The Representatives elect from Hassalo Lodge to the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Oregon, are Messrs Wm Dierdorff, Jacob Stitzel and J. H. Mitchell.

LIQUID FAVORS.—We acknowledge the receipt, last evening, from Mr. N. Williams of the Portland Liquor Store, of a demijohn of "bottled recuperation," as Nasby calls it.

NEW STYLE BUSINESS COATS.—Harman Bros' new business coats are the most elegant garments in Portland. Their new shaped pantaloons are worn by all fashionable men. The suits made in their merchant tailoring establishment are now leading the fashions in Portland.

FURNITURE.—We call the attention of those in want of furniture, to the advertisement of Hurgren & Shindler. We have seen their warerooms and must say that we have never seen a finer selection of furniture. Messrs H & S have a well established business, buying their Eastern goods direct from the manufacturers. Parties purchasing in their line, may rely upon honorable dealing and low prices.

THE STEAMER JOHN L. STEPHENS not lost! but has arrived at Portland, and brought to KOHN & FISHEL, the largest and best assortment of Gentlemen's Spring and Summer Suits, the latest style, and of the best material that has been offered in this city for years. The Ladies have not been forgotten. They will find by an inspection of the stock just arrived, that their wants have been anticipated by a selection of dry goods, the equal of which is not often presented here.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which are made here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by a fraudulent imitation of his brands, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior product for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the fame of the coffee the very unwilling though unwilling testimony of the competitors. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Brick Pomeroy and his Paper

It is stated that Brick Pomeroy intends removing his paper the La Crosse Democrat to either Chicago or Cincinnati, its immense business requiring a more central point. At last accounts he was making a trip through the Western and Southern cities, fixing things for his nomination as Vice President on the Democratic ticket, he being willing to assign the first place to A. Johnson. The idea of such a fellow as Pomeroy presiding over the United States Senate is enough to disgust even a Democrat of any claims to decency; but "Brick's" chances for the nomination are by no means to be despised. He is the representative Copperhead, as his paper is the representative Democratic journal. The La Crosse Democrat, which has become notorious all over the U. S. by the wicked obscenity of its utterances, has now a weekly circulation of 140 000, being more than that of any six Copperhead papers in the country combined, and is rapidly absorbing the subscribers of the other Democratic papers. At least this is what Pomeroy himself says, and judging by the circulation of the Democrat on this coast, we are not inclined to doubt the truth of his statement. The immense circulation which this miserable little country paper has gained within a short time is owing to the fact that it truly represents the real sentiments and the real purposes of the great majority of the Democratic party. Its obscenity, blasphemy and unblushing treason are recognized by the Copperhead masses as reflecting their own feelings and wishes, and they take it because of these qualities, for other merits it has none. Neither the New York World, nor the Cincinnati Enquirer, nor the Chicago Times, nor our own Examiner, represent the real principles of the Democratic party. They prevaricate and equivocate, or tone down and disguise the real ends for which they are working, and endeavor in a greater or less degree, and with greater or less success, to render the nauseous pill of modern Democracy acceptable to quasi Union men. But Brick Pomeroy scorns all expediency and all disguises for [illegible], and [illegible] not in the mill, but in the strongest of Copperheadism. He [illegible] half-way doctrine, but goes in [illegible] for the re-establishment of slavery, the repudiation of the national debt, the exaltation of [illegible], and the punishment of loyalty. And that in this he advocates the true purposes of the Democracy, is proved by the wonderful circulation which his paper receives. No two men in the United States could so fitly [illegible] the Democracy in the next ca[illegible] as Andy Johnson and Brick Pomeroy—the first the man who has done more for the [illegible] their Northern friends than any other living man, and the second, the [illegible] which the party has endorsed as the most correct exponent of its principles. [illegible] will be nominated is, however, problematical; for [illegible] a ticket there would be no hope of catching the votes of the dissatisfied Re[illegible] on which the Democracy must rely for victory [illegible] "Brick" Pomeroy represents the active, radical element [illegible] the Democratic party—the element which will control any administration which comes into power by Democratic votes, and, if any one would ascertain the real intentions of that body, he will find them boldly avowed in the [illegible] columns of the La Crosse Democrat. [illegible]

THIRTEEN HUNDRED NEWSPAPERS IN GREAT BRITAIN.—The London Newspaper Press Directory for 1868 gives the following account of the newspapers in England, Scotland and Ireland [illegible]:

"There are now published in the United Kingdom 1,324 newspapers, distributed as follows: England, London, 253, provinces, 751—1,004; Wales, 49; Scotland, 132; Ireland, 124 [illegible]. Of these there are 86 daily papers published in England, one in Wales, 12 in Scotland, 13 in Ireland and 1 in the British [illegible]. On reference to the edition of this [illegible] for 1858, we find the following [illegible], viz: In that year [illegible] the United Kingdom [illegible] were [illegible] in Scotland [illegible] there are [illegible] papers, [illegible] daily, [illegible] country has very [illegible] during the last ten years. The [illegible] in course of publication, include [illegible] 521 of which [illegible] religious character, [illegible], Wesleyan [illegible], Independent and other Communities."

The [illegible] of the President's counsel with a smooth face, innocent of razor, is Wm. M. Evarts, of New York. Decidedly he has the [illegible] face at that table. He [illegible] like a well-paid, comfortable-living parson, who presides over a well beloved flock of [illegible] none of whom would ever think of [illegible] any one else a "call" to preside over them. His dress is neat and faultless [illegible] with full-toned tones, which delight the ear. He talks as if he had known nothing but law since he left the cradle, and there is nothing but law in his [illegible] of attractive flights of oratory, [illegible] the strongest [illegible] of any in the fewest [illegible].—Washington correspondence.

A [illegible] freedmen were lately engaged [illegible] from the Florida coast to cut timber, but the employers sailed to Matanzas, with the intention of selling them into slavery. The names of the parties engaged in the transaction are B. Preston and [illegible], of South Carolina, J. A. Smith and John Colman of Mississippi, and William Allen, of [illegible] Virginia. Preston, Ellet and Allen were captured and sent to Key West [illegible] United States Consul at Matanzas having interested himself in the matter. Smith and Colman escaped. The freedmen were sent back to Key West.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger has been informed by gentlemen who took prominent part in the recent State Convention of the New York Democracy, that, notwithstanding the reiterated newspaper [illegible] that Gov. Seymour is not a candidate for the Presidency, he can be induced to [illegible]."

[illegible] sent to a brother Quaker a sheet of paper, in the middle of which was an ? He received, by return of mail, a sheet with a 0 in the middle of the page. The correspondence meant "What news?" Answer "Nothing."

De Foe could find no publisher for Robinson Crusoe; Thackeray, for Vanity Fair; [illegible], for Jane Eyre; Emerson for his essays on Nature—until patience had been exhausted.

A [illegible] a church in Minnesota, writes to a friend: "No velvet cushions in our pews. We don't go in for style. The fattest person has the softest seat."

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. The system is fortified against them by the strengthening of the heart [illegible] the bilious vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which the sex they are subject. H. W. SHIPLEY & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS, AND USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE.

The old high-priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been played out by a fair working trial made by Mr. H. Kelly, of his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following [illegible] over his own signature:

MR. H. W. SHIPLEY—Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over-shot and three Leffel wheels—10, 13 and 15 inch Leffel [illegible]. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffel wheel (though unfinished), it worked the [illegible] like a [illegible] using 62 ft. of water per minute more than the 10 inch Leffel. At your request I afterwards took your wheel out, that it might be finished, and in putting in a 10-inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water per minute. After some months I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance while running the circular saw in a log which squared 18 inches, I added the planer with a 9 inch knife, cutting from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch, without in the least slacking the speed. After thoroughly testing both wheels, I am satisfied that your wheel with three-eighths of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffel with gate [illegible] third open. At half gate your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N. B. Mr. Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, being sick at the first and absent from the State at the second trial.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and lifeless [illegible] broken down constitutions, incapacitating them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death sets the seal. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for [illegible] relief will be too late. Send them immediately to Dr. Gibbon, [illegible] who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, [illegible] their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a speedy cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

BOUNTY.—Act July 28, 1866, Soldiers enlisting for service between April 19, 1861 and July 19, 1864, for two or three years are entitled to bounty. Widows and Heirs of soldiers are entitled. Sailors and Marines who entered after July 1, 1864 are entitled to $100 for each year of service. Seamen are entitled to three months pay if they entered the service between Feb. 24, 1864, and July 1, 1865. Colored soldiers are entitled same as white.

PENSIONS.—Soldiers and Sailors disabled or who have lost any of their limbs are entitled to pension. Those who lost limbs are entitled to additional sum from $7 to $15 per month, according to condition. Widows are entitled to $2 per month extra for each child under 16 years of age.

COMMUTATION OF TRAVEL.—California and Nevada Volunteers discharged in Arizona, New Mexico or Utah and at points distant from the place of enlistment are entitled to actual cost of transportation, less the amount paid at the time of discharge.

THREE MONTHS' PAY PROPER.—Volunteer Officers who were in the service March 3, 1865 and were honorably discharged after April 9, 1865 are entitled to three months pay proper.

LOST HORSES.—Cavalry Soldiers who entered the service prior to June 20, 1864 and owned the horses and equipments they used are entitled to 40 cents per day for the period of service, and to pay for equipments lost and each horse killed in battle or lost without fault of soldier.

COMMUTATION OF RATIONS.—Soldiers, Sailors and Marines who were prisoners of war during the Rebellion are entitled to commutation of rations at cost prices during the period of their imprisonment.

SERVANTS OF ARMY OFFICERS.—The allowance for servants of all officers who were in the service at any time between May 1, 1864 and March 3, 1865, is equal to the pay of a private soldier during the time for each servant allowed and employed. As this $11 per month was allowed for the intervening ten months, instead of $11 an allowed every officer is entitled to $50 additional for each servant so employed.

BOUNTY LAND WARRANTS.—All officers, soldiers, sailors, marines, their widows, or minor children, who were actually engaged in battle in any war between 1790 and March 3, 1855 are entitled to a Land Warrant of 160 acres. If they have received less than that amount they are entitled to the balance to make 160 acres.

All communications to be noticed should be addressed as above and contain postage stamps for a reply.

- CURES [illegible] NO PAY REQUIRED
- IN ALL CASES [illegible] CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble, to the incredible success that has marked the career of this Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the cases treated at this Institute, but the Doctor deems it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, [illegible] but in applying such [illegible] these [illegible] may [illegible] and [illegible] earned [illegible] reputation.
